

ANDREW G. VERZILLI PH. D.
EMERITUS PROFESSOR OF ECONOMICS
DREXEL UNIVERSITY

As of June 30, 1993, Dr. Andrew G. Verzilli is Emeritus Professor of Economics at Drexel University, Philadelphia. He has taught and conducted research in a formal university setting for 38 years. His work at Drexel University has been for 35 years. Since June 30, 1993, Dr. Verzilli is founder, owner and teacher of the Broken Tree One Room World School House in Kintnersville, PA.

In 1961, Dr. Verzilli earned a B.A. degree in Economics from St. Vincent College, Latrobe, PA. Subsequently, he earned a M.A. degree in Economics (1963) and a Ph.D. degree in Economics (1965) from Boston College.

Dr. Verzilli has taught twenty-five different courses (at both the graduate and undergraduate levels) across four disciplines (Economics-Statistics-Management and Organizational Sciences-Finance) in the College of Business and Administration. In the past, his major teaching and research focus was in the area of Economics and Financial History and the presentation of interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary economic and business education. In addition, he teaches economics to students ranging from kindergarten to Ph.D. He is the recipient of seven teaching awards from students. Dr. Verzilli and students were presented with the Innovative Teaching Award by the Mid Atlantic Colleges of Business for the Drexel University Philadelphia Community Connection Course, November of 1990. Dr. Verzilli was honored as one of 100 exemplary teachers/professors by the American Association for Higher Learning, Washington D.C. 1991.

Since 1968, Dr. Verzilli has provided economic value analysis primarily for litigations and courtroom presentations. Most of this effort has been directed toward issues involving earning capacity estimates, property tax appeals, wrongful terminations, discrimination issues, and business economy profiles. He has testified approximately five hundred times in both Federal Courts and Courts of Common Pleas throughout the United States.

Dr. Verzilli has participated in three research grants, major revisions and innovations in curriculum and pedagogy development and was coordinator of the Ph.D. Core Program. He has presented research papers at over sixty conferences (inside and outside of the United States). In addition, he has published articles in eight professional journals. Most recently, 2002 presenter to World Future Society.

Dr. Verzilli is the lead Host on a world-wide Internet Radio show on Voice America.com. The show airs one hour per week and the topic is How to use Education to Reduce and Eliminate Local and World Poverty.

Dr. Verzilli is a member of the American Economic Association and Pennsylvania Economic Association, and has been a member of the Western Economic Association - Eastern Economic Association and the Atlantic Economic Association.

Dr. Verzilli is working as a Consultant Faculty Mentor focusing on Distance Learning at Thomas Edison State College in Trenton, NJ.
